AWAIT SUGGESTION FROM CARRANZA

Arredondo Transmits Brief and Friendly Reply From Lansing

CABINET APPROVES NOTE

Lays Stress on Desirability of Giving Quick Consideration to Conditions Along Border

NARROWS IMMEDIATE OBJECT

WASHINGTON, July 7—Inception of the diplomatic conversations which it is hoped will result in a settlement of differences between the United States and the de facto government in Mexico, awaited tonight a suggestion from General Carranza as to how they should proceed. State department officials believe more can be accomplished thru informal conferences between Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate and Frank L. Polk, acting secretary of state than by a more formal exchange of views. They are willing to accede however to some other plan should the de facto government propose it.

Mr. Arredondo transmitted to his government today a brief and friendly note handed to him by Secretary Lansing, expressing gratification over the turn affairs between the two governments have taken and accepting proposals for diplomatic settlement of points in dispute. The communication was approved by the cabinet before it was sent to the Mexican embassy.

Text of Lansing's Note

The text of the note, addressed to Mr. Arredondo follows:

"Sir—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of July 4th, 1916, in which you transcribe a note addressed to me by the secretary of foreign relations of your government and to request that you will transmit to him the following reply:

"Mr. Secretary:—

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your courteous note transmitted to me by Senor Arredondo on the 4th inst., in which you refer to my notes of June 20th, and June 26th and to assure you of the sincere gratification of my government at the frank statement of the difficulties which have unfortunately arisen in our relations along the international boundary and the unreserved expression of the desire of your government to reach an adjustment of these difficulties on a broad and amicable basis. The same spirit of friendship and of solicitude for the continuance of cordial relations between our two countries inspires my government which equally desires an immediate solution of the matters of difference which have long vexed both governments.

"It is especially pleasing to my government that the de facto government of Mexico is disposed to give quick as well as practical consideration in a spirit of concord to the remedies which may be applied to the existing conditions.

"Reciprocating the same desire the government of the United States is prepared immediately to exchange views as to a practical plan to remove finally and prevent a recurrence of the difficulties which have been the source of the controversy.

Accept, Mr. Secretary, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

"I am sir, yours very sincerely,
(Signed) "Robert Lansing."

Lays Stress on Border Condictions

Officials did not fail to note that Secretary Lansing had laid stress upon the desirability of giving quick consideration to the conditions along the border which have been a source of controversy. The language of the communication plainly intimates that a speedy solution of that problem will be sought, whatever time may be allowed afterward to find a means of aiding the de facto government in restoring normal economic conditions thruout Mexico. The definition of the border dispute submitted by General Carranza in his note suggesting negotiations for a settlement apparently has been found acceptable by the Washington government. This virtually narrows the immediate object of the negotiators to consideration of the reasonable anxiety of the United States for the security of its frontier on one hand and the desire of the de facto government for early withdrawal of American troops from Mexico on the other.

Additional evidence of the friendly attitude of the Carranza government came today in the form of a warning communicated by Mr. Arredondo to the state department at the direction of General Carranza in connection with the battle between Villa and Carranza forces at Corralitos.

Admits Serious Defeat

The message admitted a serious defeat for the Carranza troops and asked that the American forces be notified.

At the same time the state department received a report from an American in Mexico that he had seen and talked with Villa personally near Corralitos a few days before the fight reported in the Carranza message. The bandit leader was said to have entirely recovered from wounds received at Columbus, except that he used a cane and walked with a slight limp.

This message, the source of which was not revealed, added that Villa had been continuously in the Corralitos region since the American pursuit was halted by the clash at Parral, the first outbreak of hostility against General Pershing's expedition by Carranza soldiers.

If Villa is alive and has recovered sufficiently to lead a new force toward the border, considerable detachments of Carranza troops are between his present position and the most advanced American patrols.

General Carranza's message of warning gave assurances that every effort would be made by their forces to capture and destroy the band.

Officials were pleased at the indication that General Carranza was disposed to seek co-operation in protecting the border. Mr. Arredondo reiterated tonight his belief that Villa is dead.

WOMEN WILL WORK FOR HUGHES' ELECTION

NOMINEE SPENDS GREATER PART OF DAY MEETING WORKERS

Women Perfect Organization Called the Women's National Committee of the Hughes Alliance—Will not Ally Itself with State Organizations.

Bridgehampton, N. Y., July 7.—Charles E. Hughes, devoted the greater part of today to meeting women who will work for his election. The nominee and his wife motored nearly 100 miles to the country home of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney at Roslyn, N. Y., and there received about 300 women workers, most of whom had met him before.

Mr. Hughes did not address his callers. Chairman Wilcox of the national committee also held a number of conferences with women leaders.

A national organization of women was perfected and called the Women's National Committee of the Hughes alliance. It plans to work for the national ticket without allying itself with Republican state organizations.

Miss Frances A. Kellar of New York, former head of the social service bureau of the Progressive party was elected chairman. The vice-chairmen include Miss Harriet Vittum of Chicago; Dr. Katherine B. Davis of New York; Miss Mary Antin of New York; Mrs. Winston Churchill of New Hampshire; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

Twenty five thousand dollars has been raised to start the campaign, Mrs. Pinchot giving $1,000 additional. The organization expects to concentrate its efforts on states where women vote.

PROPOSED WILLARD-FULTON FIGHT FOR LABOR DAY IS OFF

CHICAGO, July 7—The proposed fight between Jess Willard and Fred Fulton, heavy weights, for Labor Day is off, it was announced today by Michael Collins, manager for Fulton. Collins said that Willard had failed to comply with articles of the agreement, which called for the staging of the fight before the club that offered the largest purse by July 1st. Fulton claimed the title of champion by default. Bids for the fight were to be opened in Chicago on July 1st, and all details were settled, Collins said. Willard was to receive two-thirds of the $50,000 purse offered by Harry Sherman of Minneapolis, but Willard had refused to go thru with the contract according to Collins. In addition to the default, Fulton contends that his pugilistic record entitles him to the title over Willard, Collins asserted.

REPORTS ESTABLISH DEFINITELY ONLY ONE DEATH FROM STORM

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 7.—Reports tonight from the storm swept gulf states, tho bringing news of property damage that may total millions of dollars established definitely only one death, that of an engineer killed at Bond, Miss., when his train ran into awashout. Reports from Beloit, Ala., that 17 negroes were killed there Thursday were denied.

Reports from sources considered reliable in Gulfport, Miss., stated that three schooners were lost off Ship Island Wednesday and that twenty four men are unaccounted for.

SOLDIER HAS LEFT HAND BLOWN FROM WRIST IN MYSTERIOUS BLAST

NOGALES, Ariz., July 7—Private Charles Nelson, Company M, 12th regular infantry, had his left hand blown from his wrist last night in a mysterious explosion which followed, he said, an attack by two unidentified persons.

The alleged assault occurred about one hundred yards outside the lines of the camp. The explosion was heard for nearly a mile.

NEW YORK NOT TO CALL FOR RED CROSS NURSES

FEWER NEW CASES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS ARE REPORTED

Only Unremitting Vigilance and Strict Enforcement of Every Known Sanitary Precaution Can Keep Epidenmic Within Bounds.

New York, July 7.—Health authorities of New York decided late tonight to abandon for the present at least a plan decided upon in the afternoon to appeal to the American Red Cros for nurses to aid in stamping out the scourge of infantile paralysis in this city, which since June 1st, has caused 196 deaths among children. Health Commissioner Emerson said he was now of the opinion it would not be necessary to ask for outside aid as the hospitals of this city have agreed to extend their help more freely.

Fewer new cases were reported today than on Thursday and Wednesday. Health authorities and prominent physicians today agreed that only by unremitting vigilance and the strict enforcement of every known sanitary precaution could the epidemic be kept within bounds.

Another serious phase of the situation was reported today by the Association for Improving the condition of the poor, which has found that in the congested districts of the city, frightened mothers have interned their children in their tenement homes, in many instances with windows closed.

Childrens' reading rooms in the public libraries have been ordered closed and the order barring children from moving picture theaters will not be modified until conditions improve. Playgrounds in various parts of the city were ordered closed early in the day.

The proposal for a general quarantine of the city was abandoned as impracticable.

Must Report on Children.

Springfield, Ill., July 7.—As a precaution against the bringing of two cases of infantile paralysis into the state from New York City, the Illinois state board of health today ordered all railroads entering the state from the east to report the names and exact destination of all children bound from New York to Illinois points.

Find No Evidence of Disease.

Chicago, July 7.—Physicians from the city health department who met and inspected all incoming trains from the east today, seeking signs of infantile paralysis, reported that no evidence of such was fonud.

One supposed case was reported here today. It was ordered held in observation.

Dr. John Dill Robertson, city health commissioner, issued a statement in which he said that Chicago and the state of Illinois are in no immediate danger of the disease.

The death reported yesterday as due to infantile paralysis, was upon investigation, found to have been caused by intestinal intoxication, according to a report made today by Dr. Frank E. Gearon of the health department staff. Another reported case of the disease was found to be untrue, the infant merely suffering from stomach trouble.

According to Dr. Robertson, there are but three actual cases of infantile paralysis in Chicago, which is below the normal average.

TO DISCONTINUE MOST OF THE MOBILIZATION CAMPS IN EAST

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mobilization camps in most of the 22 states of the department of the east will be discontinued, it was announced tonight at divisional headquarters, Governor's Island, as soon as the last national guard organization called out by the president has departed for the border.

With the closing of the camps, recruits will be tried at army posts already designated, according to an order issued today by Major General Leonard Wood. It was found that the contemplated plan of maintaining the state camps for training recruits would enforce the absence of scores of regular army and national guard officers from their border commands. Under the new plan the recruits will be trained by the regular army officers stationed at the posts.

REPORTS ARE CONFLICTING

Field Headquarters, Mexico, July 7—by radio to Columbus, N. M., July 7—Numerous reports have been received at field headquarters recently about Francisco Villa but they are conflicting and none is believed. The latest, brought to camp by a Mexican, asserts that Villa is dead and that his body has been cremated. Another declares he has recovered and has raided Torreon, killing three merchants. A third rumor places the bandit leader at Fresnillo, near Zacatecas.

DEFENSE RESTS IN ORPET CASE

Dr. Ralph Webster Defends Testimony He Gave for Prosecution

SPENDS HOURS ON STAND

Mrs. Youker Admits Aiding Dady in Attempt to Trap Orpet into a Confession

REPLY TO MISS YOUKER

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 7.—Dr. Ralph Webster, toxicologist, engaged in a prolonged duel of verbal rapier thrusts today with Ralph H. Potter, who with James H. Wilkerson, is defending William H. Orpet, a college student, against a charge of murdering Marion Lambert, a high school girl, with potassium cyanide of February 9th, last.

Webster Defends Testimony.

The defense rested its case during forenoon and rebuttal began. Mrs. Margaret Youker rebutted the testimony of her sister, Dorothy Mason, who testified for the defense and for the rest of the day Dr. Webster was engaged in defending the testimony which he gave for the prosecution early in the trial.

Hours were consumed in the most delicate play of words and phrases. Mr. Potter was trying to get the witness to admit that he did not "know" absolutely when he testified that poison found in the Orpet ash heap was cyanide of potassium. Dr. Webster never gave a direct answer to this question. He admitted that he believed that the discovery by three other eminent chemists that the substance was not cyanide of potassium at all, but cyanide of sodium, with a faint trace of potassium cyanide, was correct. This did not alter the fact however, that the only thing he positively "new" of his own knowledge was what his own analysis showed, namely a substance containing 49 per cent of cyanide of potassium.

Mr. Potter varied the uestion in every conceivable way until five o'clock, the ordinary closing hour came.

Court Finally Orders Adjournment.

Attorney Wilkerson and Potter insisted on adjournment but Judge Donnelley ordered that the witness be finished with, but after another hour the court ordered adjournment.

Answering a hypothetical question in which the analysis of teh defense chemists was assumed to be correct witness said that to get the cyanide of potassium which was found in Marion's stomach she would have had to have taken more than two pounds of the substance taken from the Orpet ash heap, or to have drunk a two quart solution made of it.

Mrs. Youker admitted having aided in an attempt by State's Attorney Dady and his associate, David R. Joslyn to trap Orpet into a confession shortly after his arrest. She is married to a brother of Miss Celestia Youker with whom Orpet testified he had an understanding in the nature of an engagement.

Attorney Joslyn, she admitted, drafted a letter to Orpet. It was copied with little change by Celestia who signed her name and dispatched it by Mrs. Youker to Orpet at the Waukegan Jail. The letter requested him for the good of all concerned if he were guilty to make a clean breast of it. Orpet replied as follows:

Orpet's Reply to Miss Youker.

"Dear Celestia:

"Your letter is all bunk. Whatever Joslyn says is a ——— lie. I am awfully sorry you fell for it. Even if your faith is not enough to counteract the state's attorney's story, I can still fight it out alone. Good bye then, I am sorry for the trouble this has caused you and I'm glad you have showed me this now. Don't come near here. I've got enough to stand without having you dragged into the papers. I have told the truth."

On direct examination Mrs. Youker testified as to a conversation between Marion and the witness' sister, Dorothy Mason. Dorothy, when a defense witness quoted Marion as saying upon hearing that Orpet was engaged to Celestia Youker, that "some times I think that life isn't worth living."

Mrs. Youker testified that Dorothy repeated the dialogue to H. G. Carlin, an investigator for the defense in her presence and at that time she quoted Marion as saying that life was not worth living "for an old woman like that."

This she said, referred to a cripple whom Marion and Dorothy had noticed during their talk.

Mr. Carlin, Mrs. Youker testified, told Dorothy that she could elaborate the first part of the quotation and could treat the reference to the old woman as unimportant.

FUNSTON WATCHES NEWS OF BANDIT OPERATIONS

REPORTS SUPPLY REASONS FOR BELIEVING VILLA IS LEADING OUTLAWS

Large Carranza Forces Chasing Bandits of Chihuahua and Northern Durango—Mexican Horse Thieves Raid Ranch East of Nogales

San Antonio, Texas, July 7—Careful attention was paid by General Funston and his staff today to every meager bit of information coming out of Mexico relating to renewed activity of organized bandits in the state of Chihuahua. Unconfirmed reports supplied some reasons for believeing that they are directed and possibly lead in person by Francisco Villa.

Carranza's official notification that the force that destroyed General Ramos' force near Jiminez might be moving northward with the object of raiding the American side of the river was borne out to some extent by information reaching the intelligence department of the American army, but the American sources of information also had reports that instead of moving northward the bandits were swinging south and west towards Parral.

The last of the Illinois National Guard reached here today.

De Facto Troops Chase Bandits

Chihuahua City, Mex., July 7—Large Carranza forces better mobilized and more completely equipped than other units of the de facto government's troops are today chasing the bandits of Chihuahua and northern Durango intent on wiping them out.

Jiminez, which the Villistas captured after defeating an inferior force and killing General Ignacio Ramos, has been occupied again by government troops. The bandits are fleeing thru the valley of the river Florida.

General Jacinto Trevino today characterized as absurd reports that a revolt against the de facto government was in progress and that Alvaro Obregon, minister of war, would take the field of battle against the bandits.

Mexicans Raid Arizona Ranch

Nogales, Ariz., July 7—Reports of a raid by Mexican horse thieves on a ranch three miles east of Nogales today resulted in both American and Mexican forces being despatched to round them up.

The bandits drove twelve horses from the ranch of Frank Ake into a corral about 100 yards south of the line. A force of deputies and Arizona rangers went out from here with the announced intention of bringing the horses back. Col. W. H. Sage, communicated with the Mexican military authorities who announced that they had sent soldiers in automobiles to try to cut off the thieves' escape to the south.

ILLINOIS MOOSE DELAY ACTION ON ENDORSEMENT OF CANDIDATE

CHICAGO, Ill., July 7—Members of the Progressive state executive committee today postponed action on the proposed endorsement of a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. The committee was in session nearly all day without reaching a decision. The plan is to call another meeting of the committee later to consider action on the subject.

Harold L. Ickes, Progressive national committeeman from Illinois who presided at the session issued a statement in which he said:

"The committee considered the letters that have come in from Progressives all over the state in reply to a list of questions sent out last week. It appears from these letters that there is considerable sentiment among Progressives for Frank L. Smith. There was some sentiment expressed for Morton D. Hull and a few Progressives expressed themselves in favor of Frank O. Lowden. In view of the fact that sentiment has not yet had an opportunity to crystallize on account of the late entry of Senator Hull, it was decided not to take any action at this time."

URGES SUBMISSION OF STATE WIDE PROHIBITION TO VOTERS

FREEPORT, Ill., July 7.—The Illinois Christian Endeavor Union adopted resolutions at its convention here today urging the anti-saloon League to "take steps to have the question of statewide Prohibition submitted to voters at the earliest possible time."

The convention indicated its preference for statewide prohibition rather than for local option and declared its intention of ascertaining the position each candidate for nomination to the legislature holds on state wide prohibition.

INVESTIGATE KILLING OF SOLDIER.

Columbus, N. M., July 7.—Military authorities are investigating today the killing of C. W. Nasco, a private of Company E, Second Battalion, U. S. Engineers at a camp between here and the field base in Mexico. According to reports, Nasco was killed in a quarrel with J. Van Gordon, a comrade.

EFFORTS TO DELAY SHIPPING BILL FAIL

TO PRESS MEASURE REGARDLESS OF THREATS OF A FILIBUSTER

Republicans are Told It Would be Impossible to Redraft the Bill to Meet With the Approval of the Minority.

Washington, July 7.—An effort by Republican senators to secure an agreement by which action on the government shipping bill would be postponed until the next session of congress failed today when administration senators announced that the measure would be pressed regardles of threats of a filibuster. It was declared Democratic opposition virtually had been overcome by amendments which will not materially alter the important features of the bill.

Senator Simomns, Senator Fletcher and Senator Reed, members of the commerce committee, which has had the measure in hand, conferred with President Wilson today after a meeting of the committee at which Republican members were told plainly that it would be impossible to redraft the bill to meet with approval by the minority.

Two amendments calculated to overcome Democratic opposition are being seriously considered. One would specify that the government should acquire no vessels flying the flag of nations engaged in the European war and that no ships be purchased which at the time are engaged in the American trade. The other would direct that the government should not engage in operation of any ships until all efforts have been exhausted to charter or lease vessels acquired to private operators upon satisfactory terms.

After the white house conference the commerce committee held another meeting and it was decided to postpone until tomorrow a caucus of Democratic senators that had been called for tonight.

HOLD BOOK KEEPER OF CLARINDA, IA., BANK TO GRAND JURY

CLARINDA, Iowa, July 7.—Guy Brent, the book keeper in the Clarinda Trust and Saving Bank who was accused in a dying statement by Vice-President H. R. Spry of the same institution of being a defaulter just before Spry committed suicide, was held to the grand jury by Justice C. W. Stewart today folowing a preliminary hearing. The defense did not introduce any testimony. The state had a number of witnesses including A. F. Galloway, cashier of the bank, Leslie T. Finley, assistant cashier and others. Testimony of Galloway and Finley was to the effect that Brent had been systematically robbing the bank of sums varying from $10 to $25 in a single day for many months. Finley testified he secured evidence of Brent's guilt and placed it before the officials of the bank. No action was taken and Brent's salary, which began at $40 a month gradually was increased to $75 a month at the time of his arrest which was the day of Spry's suicide.

TO SEEK INDICTMENT OF TWENTY ON CHARGES OF AUTO STEALING

CHICAGO, July 7.—Enough evidence of wholesale automobile theft and sale covering points in several states of a gang which has its headquarters in Chicago is in the hands of State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne, he announced today, to justify his asking the grand jury for the indictment of about twenty persons, including a woman, in connection with the stolen automobile industry. He has been nearly a year in rounding up his evidence, he said. It was reported that a number of the persons involved have made confessions. The alleged band has operated in Chicago and vicinity, for many months.

The dealings according to Mr. Hoyne average a car a day.

The woman is said to be known in business circles as the wife of a federal employe.

BRITISH CARRY GERMAN TRENCHES

Characterize Gains as Important From a Tactical Viewpoint

RUSS EXTEND OFFENSIVE

Hurl Troops Against German Lines on Whole Front From Riga to Baranovichi

ITALIANS CLAIM PROGRESS

The British have resumed their sledge-hammer blows against the German lines in the Somme sector, and, after a day of terrific fighting have carried the German trenches at three points along the front. Latest reports from British headquarters says that fierce fighting is continuing.

The British gains, while not resulting in any substantial advance, are characterized by the war office as important from a tactical viewpoint. Their greatest success was east of Laboisselle where they captured German trenches in extent of nearly 2,000 yards and to a depth of 500 yards. This gain is in addition to 1,000 yards of trenches taken by assault Thursday night.

British Force Way into Ovillers.

The bitterest fighting of the day occurred on the center of the line of attack about the village of Ovillers and Contalmaison. A British brigade forced its way into Ovillers and engaged in a desperate struggle for possession of the village.

At Contalmaison a division of the Prussian Guards was hurled into the fight to check the British advance after the village had ben carried by assault. Contalmaison was recaptured, but 700 prisoners were left in the hands of the British.

On the French end of the Somme sector there was a lull in the fighting. The French official report does not even mention the usual artillery duels which fill the intervals between infantry assaults.

The violence of the Britsh offensive failed however, to divert the attention of the Germans from their desperate efforts to capture Verdun. Assault after assault was delivered against the French lines in the sorely battered Thiaumont region but, according to Paris, all were in vain.

Russ Extend Offensive.

Surpassing even in importance the entente allies' great effort on the western front the news from the eastern battlefield shows that the Russians have extended their offensive on an unprecedented scale. On the whole front from Riga to Baranovichi, a distance of 300 miles, the Russians are being hurled against the German lines. Farther to the south General Kaledines is driving steadily forward toward Kovel and has captured two villages and a railroad station on the Sarny-Kovel road. Military critics of the allies assert that unless the Germans can halt the Russian advance in the immediate future they will have to withdraw their lines along the entire eastern front and probably abandon Lemberg.

The German official report on Friday admits the abandoning of a salient to General Kaledines, but both German and Russian official statements fail to give a clear idea of the exact situation in the east.

The Italians claim continued progress for their offensive in the Trentino district, but there apparently has been no great change in this field of the war.

THE RURAL CARRIER AN AID TO PROGRESS

Jacksonville is honored just now by the presence of one hundred or more rural letter carriers. They are a sturdy lot of men, of character and standing befitting the important work which they daily perform. The growth of the rural mail service has been indicative of the betterment of rural conditions during the past ten or fifteen years. The influence of the rural route system has been very large in business, educational and religious ways. In addition to the development that has come along these three lines, the establishment of the rural service has had a very marked effect upon road conditions and thousands of miles of country roads in the United States are now in vastly improved condition by comparison with a few years ago, just because the rural routes have been established. The rural carrier is, therefore a factor in civilization and his advent has meant growth and development along various lines.

It is noteworthy that the men in the rural service with very few exceptions have given especially faithful service to the government and to their patrons. As the natural result the average rural carrier is not classed only as an employe of the government but is the friend of most of the residents along his route. They look for his coming each day as the herald of good tidings, a welcome visitor who brings daily the letters and papers which in the past were scured not oftener than once or twice a week thru a special trip to the village postoffice or to one in the city still further away. Not only letters and papers are brought to the patrons by this daily service, but they are thus put in touch with the stores of the nearby towns nad cities and if necessary a daily delivery of supplies is possible. The rural service—and thus the rural carrier—is the link which has brought the city and the country side into closer relationship and into better fellowship than was thought possible twenty years ago.

Rural service, with the telephone and the automobile, is an influence which has changed the whole aspect of country life. These things have taken away the drawbacks of living in the country—the inconvenience and loneliness—and today they furnish contributing reasons why the people who live in the towns and cities are really envious of the country folk. The latter now have all the joys and comforts of the city at their disposal and besides the staple, the solid and the beautiful things of life that only the country can provide.

The place that the rural carrier holds in the public mind and heart was exemplified yesterday in the clearest sort of way. The visiting delegates were entertained in Jacksonville, various committees having made such preparation as occurred to them for the entertainment of the visitors. Then from four country churches came the women of the aid societies to join in serving the banquet for the delegates. The city and country united in the effort to do honor to the carriers, recognizing the common obligation to them.

THE MAELSTROM OF PAVING MATERIALS.

The hearing on the proposed pavement for Prairie street yesterday had a familiar sound, except that the sounds were just a little more vigorous than at any time in the past. It was the old story of disagreement about materials and history was repeating itself, because the Prairie street paving project has been tossed about for ten or twelve years and the street is still in the mud. There is manifestly nothing wrong with the proposition that a majority of those who are to pay for the improvement should have a voice in deciding about the material but the fact remains that Prairie street will never be paved unless the board of local improvement maps out a definite program and adheres to that program.

In the present instance the feelings of the property owners would probably have been less ruffled if it had been suggested to them that a petition signed by a majority of the property owners stating their preference for some other material and agreeing not to file court objections if such paving material were specified, would receive consideration. The board of local improvement has the legal right to push improvement work forward without the consent of the property owners, but is is not conceivable that the present board desires to make improvements opposed by a majority of the people. An unprejudiced view of the hearing Friday leads to the opinion that the board in passing the resolution after listening to the vigorous protests was actuated, not by a desire to override the wishes of the people, but from the conviction that the work should be done and that no progress ever will be made if the specifications are changed at each hearing.

Property owners paying for improvements have the right to raise objections, they have the right to be opposed to all kinds of paving if they choose, but it often happens that the good of the public at large must be given first consideration, no matter what the individual hardship resulting. In the operation of some business enterprises they have what are called "hot weather troubles." The term means that the troubles which occur in the summer are because the workers are on higher tension, than during the cooler months. That's about the best way to look at the Prairie street hearing and some of the property owners after a few days' time may not feel that they have been so badly treated. Tney may also find that a petition actually representing a majority of the frontage and favoring some special material can still be given consideration. A petition to have weight must be "for" some material and not simply "against" a specified material.

Members of the board gave no evidence of temper but they may realize on second thought that the best way to handle a somewhat excited group of citizens is to take an adjournment and give a little time for reflection. Time and tact are great mollifiers, even in complicated paving enterprises.

AUTO ADVENTURES

When first a fellow learns to drive, he says, "Great Scott and Man Alive! this heedless scorching is a crime; it's 'careful' does it, every time. Because one's car has speed and power, he hits up fifty miles an hour, and in the gloaming he is found where he has hit the fertile ground; his car, a torn and tangled wreck, its fragments wrapped around his neck. Since I have all the time there is, I don't intend to scorch or whiz. I'll jog along a steady gait, and try to keep my head on straight." At first he travels sanely slow; but after seven weeks or so, he hurries up his choo-choo cart and tries to tear the roads apart. Then I, and other idle rich, behold him seated in a ditch, the steering gear pushed thru his hat, and with a broken leg or slat. We comb the casting from his hair, and take him to the surgeon's lair. He says, while bones are being set, "I'll get another car you bet! But no more scorching will you see—six miles an hour will do for me!"

TARVIA PAVEMENT PLANNED FOR CLAY AVENUE

No Vigorous Objection Made To Proposed Improvement At Hearing —Resolutions Adopted.

A public hearing of property owners on South Clay avenue was held yesterday by the board of local improvement and the ordinance was adopted providing for the paving with tarvia from Morton avenue to Superior avenue. Objections were filed by three persons, Miss Johanna Stacy, Mrs. Sarah Bourn and Mrs. Lydia A. Crain, the last mentioned being in California but having sent her objections by mail. J. P. Moxon expressed a slight preference for asphalt but in view of the much less price would be satisfied with tarvia. C. P. Ross told of tarvia pavements that he had seen elsewhere which gave satisfactory results. George E. Belzer and William MsNamara were willing to have tarvia or any other good materiol. J. H. Campbell believed that it would be better to lay the pavement a year following the installation of a water main. Following the expression of property owners a slight change was made in the resolution providing for a finishing material of chats instead of sand and the resolution was then read and adopted.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE NAME DETROIT FOR NEXT CONVENTION

CHICAGO, July 7.—Detroit, Mich. was selected as the next convention city for the Baptist Young People's Union of America in the second day's session of that organization's silver jubilee at the Coliseum here tonight. Detroit was without opposition after the Philadelphia delegation announced its withdrawal from the contest providing it would be given a preference for the 1918 convention.

E. A. Hanley, president of Franklin College of Franklin, Ind., was the principal speaker before the convention. Touching upon world events and the obligation of the Baptist church and religion generally in that connection, he declared that "if the churches do not bring about peace in Europe the labor organizations will and the church will have lost its biggest opportunity."

STEGER WILL DISPOSES OF PROPERTY VALUED AT $3,000,000

CHICAGO, July 7—Property valued at $3,000,000 is disposed of in the will of the late John V. Steger, piano manufacturer, which was filed for probate late today. His widow, Louise Rowena Steger, who was granted a decree of separate maintenance several years ago, will receive one third of the personal estate and a life interest in the real estate, while Christian G. and Gearge F. The will provides a trust fund of $50,000 for the erection of a nonsectarian hospital for the benefit of all inhabitants of Steger, Illinois and $1,000 to be set aside annually for twenty five years to provide a college education for children of the company's employees.

SEEKS TO CANCEL PROBATE OF WILL OF EDWARD B. M'LEAN

WASHINGTON, July 7—Edward B. McLean, son of the late John R. McLean, the millionaire publisher, filed a petition here today seeking to cancel probate of the will of his father. It is aleged that father was mentally incapacitated and was subject to "importunities" and "undue influence' when he made the will June 3rd, 1915, a year before his death.

Counsel for the son includes Elihu Root and John B. Stanchfield of New York and Wilton J. Lambert of Washington. The younger McLean previously had consented to the probate of the will. He said today that his action then was perfunctory to meet exigencies in preserving the estate.

AGAINST SHIPPING BILL

Quincy, Ill., July 7—L. B. Boswell, secretary of the Upper Mississippi River association, made public a letter today in which the association declares the passage of the Alexander shipping bill, already passed by the house and now before the senate, will in its present form be a direct blow against the development of inland water transportation."

Illinois senators will be urged to vote against the bill, which would create a board of control to regulate freight rates by water.

GOMPERS LAUDS TEACHERS WHO HAVE ORGANIZED UNIONS

Declares Organized Labor Has Nothing to Offer Teachers Except "Opportunities for Freedom."

New York, July 7.—School teachers who have organized unions were lauded by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor in an address here tonight before the National Education Association. He declared organized labor has nothing to offer teachers except "opportunities for freedom."

The labor leader warned educators to beware of philanthropic organizations and "foundations" which seek to dominate the educational field.

"The wage earners are more vitally interested in securing the right kind of instruction in public schools than any other group of citizens" Mr. Gompers said. "The public schools are the only educational institutions available for their children and for them.

"You know how the organized movement has stood adamant against all efforts to pervert industrial education and vocational training along lines and tendencies that would make education of this nature only another opportunity to exploit the works."

William A. Wirt, superintendent of schools of Gary, Ind., said boys growing up in Gary under the influence of the Gary schools have fewer vices than other city boys.

"They do not even smoke cigarettes so much," he said. The Gary plan makes it possible, said Mr. Wirt to use all the play grounds, auditorium and other child agencies all the time instead of only at certain hours.

REVENUE BILL RUNS GAUNTLET OF FREE FOR ALL POLITICAL DEBATE

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The administration's revenue bill ran the gauntlet of a free for all political debate in the house today, Republicans declaring the admitted need for more revenue an evidence of Democratic blundering and extravagance, and Democrats defending the bill as a conservative preparedness measure. Representative London, the Socialist, attacked both the old parties but announced he would support the revenue measure.

Details of the tariff commission section of the bill were explained by Representative Rainey of Illinois, who drafted it. He made a plea for non-partisan support of the measure. Representative Hamilton of Michigan replied with an assertion that the Democrats favored a tariff commission only because President Wilson di and told the Democratic representatives they were "only sparks in the tail of the president's comet." The measure is designed to produce an additional $197,000,000 net year from income, inheritance and munitions taxes.

DAVID STARR JORDAN TERMS "WAR VULTURES" GREATER DANGER

Address Delegatets to Annual Meeting of the American School Peace League.

New York, July 7.—The danger of war with Mexico is not half so great as the danger American peace and prosperity has to fear from "war vultures" said David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Leland Stanford University in an address today before several hundred delegates to the annual meeting of the American School Peace League, held in connection with the National Education association's annual convention.

"This graver peril," said Dr. Jordan, "is brought about by those who would like to hurl the United States into war. Wherever there is carrion, there you will find the vultures. America must free Mexico of its carrion. This done, then the vulture will seek elsewhere for its prey."

Dr. Jordan declared, "It would be the crime of all ages," for the United States to intervene in Mexico. He attacked the "war propagandists" and insisted that the most recent trouble from border raids was instigated solely by "tools" of American and English capitalists engaged in a "nefarious and despisable plot to embroil the two countries."

Dr. Jordan made the direct charge that the plans for the Columbus, N. M., raid and other raids were known in El Paso, Texas, and Douglas, Ariz., two days before their actual occurrence and had it not been for the propagandists being partly successful in their "murderous work New York state troops would not now be suffering on the sun baked plains of Texas."

MISS MELTON DEAD IN FAR AWAY JAPAN

IN MISSIONARY WORK THERE FOR LONG PERIOD

Succumbed To Attack of Typhoid Fever—Had Planned Summer Visit With Sister in Philippines—Japanese Paper Tells of Death.

John W. Melton of this city has received the sad news of the death of his daughter, Mamie, who died June 11th, at her post in the Methodist mission in Nagazaki, Japan. Typhoid fever with complications of peritonitis was the cause. Her sister, Miss Frances, a teacher in the Philippine Islands had intended to join her at Nagasaki and the two would then enjoy their vacation together and she arrived the 20th to learn, for the first time, the sad, sad news.

Miss Melton was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Melton of this city. Her mother was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Strawbridge, devoted christians. She died many years ago. Miss Melton graduated at the Woman's College in this city in 1893 and then attended the training school of Lucy Rider mayer in Chicago for four years and then went directly to Japan where she has since labored effectively inthe great work. The writer met her in Yokohama, Japan, three years since. She had gone there as a delegate to the annual conference and was greatly absorbed in the work. Later he met her at Nagasaki and had the pleasure of looking over the mission work and meeting others connected with it.

She was a young lady of rare personal qualities and charming presence while possessing fine abilities. She spoke the difficult language like a native and possessed the friendship and confidence of all, both native and foreign, with whom she was associated.

She was here seven years ago on her furlough and would have been entitled to another soon.

From Nagashki Press

The Nagasaki Press gave the following notice of Miss Melton's death and funeral:

We deeply regret to announce the death of Miss Mary E. Melton, missionary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Miss Melton was taken ill about a fortnight ago and was attended by Dr. Ikebe; the disease was diagnosed as para-typhoid, and Dr. Hirst, of Seoul, who was telegraphed for and arrived on the 2nd. inst., confirmed this judgment of the local physicians. No serious anxiety was felt again until Friday last, when the patient's condition became worse and on Saturday evening it was regarded as critical. Death took place on Sunday at noon.

Miss Melton, who was a native of Jacksonville, Illinois, arrived at Nagasaki to join the staff of Kwassui Jo Gakko in December, 1897, and resided here continuously since with the exception of furloughs. For several years past she was Superintendent of the Biblical Department of the school, her principal work being the training of Bible Women, while a development was the establishment of many Sunday Schools for Japanese children in various parts of the city and neighborhood. She was well known to the foreign community generally, and greatly esteemed by all who knew her.

She leaves her aged father, John W. Melton, a sister, Frances, teacher in the Philippines, and a brother, James, a business man in Idaho. She had also an aunt, Miss Elizabeth S. Strawbridge, residing near Seattle.

The Funeral Service

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon. Despite the necessarily short notice the large chapel of Kwassui Jo Gakko was filled, the foreign community and the city being well represented, for as one of the speakers observed there is scarcely a corner of Nagasaki where Miss Melton's beneficent influence has not been felt and responded to. All the ladies of the mission in Kyushu were present, including Miss Russell, the founder, and Miss Young, the President of Kwassui Jo Gakko. The other missions working in Nagasaki were represented and several friends came form distances to attedn. The Rev. J. C. Davidson, D. D., of Kumamoto, senior missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Kyushu, presided.

The proceedings opened with the singing of the hymn "Jerusalem the Golden" by the congregation, after which prayer was offered by the Rev. R. Shirato, pastor of the Central Methodist Church, and the lesson was read by the Rev. S. Hattori, pastor of the Wesley Church. In accordance with a Japanese custom, Mr. J. M. Suganuma read an account of Miss Melton's life, narating the varied activities of her carrer in Japan as a missionary. The beautiful hymn "We Would See Jesus" was sung as a solo by Miss Draper, of Fukuoka.

Address eulogisng the deceased lady and expresisng sympathy with the relatives and the Ladies of Kwassui were delivered on behalf of the Methodist Episcopal Mission the Japanese teachers and the students of Kwassui Jo Gkuin, Chinzei Kakuin (Methodist Episcopal Boys' College), and the local churches.

Mr. Scott, who spoke for the Methodist Mission and in the English language, referred to the social qualities, the capacity for friendship, and the spiritual experience of Miss Melton. The large attendance of foreign residents at the service, including practically all the ladies of the community, he rightly quoted as evidence of her social qualities and wonderful capacity for friendship. She had a wonderful love for children and it was reciprocated, for she was loved by all the children who knew her. The speaker also referred to Miss Melton as the "housekeeper" of Kwassui, of the gracious influence which emanated from her and was appreciated by the large numbers of transient callers at the port, as well as by residents. The last days and hours were also mentioned and the assurance given of a firm trust and confidence in her Savior, Whom she had followed to Japan and served thru the girls and women of Japan.

After the adresses a large sheaf of telegrams with mesages of condolence from all parts of Japan and Korea was presented. Kwassui Chorus (students) then sang in Japanese the hymn "Saved by Grace," and the chapel service ended.

The remains, which had been lying in the parlors of Kwassui amid a mass of beautiful flowers sent by friends, were borne to Urakami for interment and followed by the Ladies of Kwassui, the teachers and students, and a large number of friends. The pallbearers were Mr. H. B. Hitchcock (American Consul), the Rev. J. H. Rowe, and Messrs, R. C. Edwards, H. W. Johns, E. R. S. Pardon, W. L. Schwartz, A. Walvoord, and H. A. Wheeler.

At the graveside, the committal service was taken by Dr. Davidson, the Rev. K. Uzaki, D. D., and the Rev. F. N. Scott Before the benediction was pronounced the hymn "There's a Land That Is Fairer Than Day" was sung by the assemblage. The sun was sinking in the west and the hills of Nagasaki rarely looked more beautiful than when the last words were spoken and the memorable and impressive service for one so greatly loved and esteemed concluded.

BILL STRONG, LIGHTNING MENTAL CACULATOR, VISITS JACKSONVILLE

William Strong, of Washington, Illinois, but known all over the state and country as a wizard mental calculator is in the city. He stopped off here to pay a visit, give us all the "once over" and see such various attractions as the "Athens of the West" has to offer.

Bill breezed into the Journal office yesterday afternoon, and asked to see the city editor. The city editor being busy it was up to yours truly to wait on the gentlemen. In appearance he resembles a farmer, has a mouthful of gold teeth and doesn't wear a collar. Bill isn't bashful about introducing himself, and soon lets one know who he is and demonstrates what he can do. He knows more in a minute than college professors in mathematics can figure in a week. He said that he was particularly anxious to visit Jacksonville, hearing that this city is noted for its educational institutions and wishing to give us some problems for the idle school teachers to work over during the warm summer days to keep their minds from growing stale. Bill is some calculator and no mistake and the problems below are given just as they come from him, as not having an adding machine and a full corps of experts at hand, we took his word for the answers and put them down accordingly. If you don't believe Bill's figures, get busy and prove the answers.

Since light travels faster than anything else the stranger took that as his first problem to solve. If the light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles in one second, it would travel 11,246,371,097,600,000 miles in 1916 years counting leap years, adding one day extra for every four years.

Division problem: 4,294,967,296 divided by 16,384 would equal 262,144.

Addition problem: Adding the numbers from 1 to 625,625 gives a total of 195,703,633,125.

Multiplication: 6,666 2-3 times 6,666 2-3 gives us a total of 44,444,444 4-9. 33,333 1-3 times 33,333,1-3 gives us 1,111,111,111 1-9. The latter result is just 25 times greater than the former.

"How old are you, young man?"

"Twenty eight years old."

Quick as a flash the answers came. Faster htan they could be written down.

"Then you are 336 months, 1,460 weeks, 10,220 days, 245,280 hours, 14,716,800 minutes, or 883,008,000 second old," says Bill.

I took his word for it.

If it is 95,000,000 miles from the earth to the sun and a dime is 1-16th of an inch thick, it would take a stack of 96,307,200,000,000 dimes to reach from the Journal Office to the sun.

The cube root of 387,420,489 is 729.

Nine to the 10th power equals 3,486,784,401.

Three to the 12th power equals 531,441.

Adding the numbers 1 to 3,600 gives the total of 6,481,800.

The cube root of 134,217,728 is 512.

In talking of railroad systems Bill remarked that the total valuation of the railroads figuring telegraph, locomotive power, and all else came to $27.50 per inch. Since there are 800,000 miles of railroad system in the entire world, figuring from the small lines up to the large systems, the value of all the railroad property in the world at this amount per inch would be the rather startling sum of $1,393,920,000,000.

Fifteen squared to the 8th power gives the sum of 2,526,890,625.

After all these problems had been swiftly solved, the stranger propounded a whopper.

This is it:

If there are 12,500 grains of sand to an ounce, sixteen ounces to the pound, and each car weighs 132,000 pounds or 66 tons, an engine would be obliged to pull, including 60 cars, 1,584,000,000,000 grains of sand.

He gave this startling information with just a moment's study of the problem and we have no doubt but that it is correct. If you doubt the gentleman's veracity, go to it.

CROPS SMALLER THAN LAST YEAR'S HARVEST

BETTER THAN AVERAGE FOR 1910 TO 1914

Show Moderate Improvement Compared With Conditions as Reported on June 1—Heavy Quantity of Wheat Held on Farms July 1.

Washington, July 7—Crops this year better than the average for the five years from 1910 to 1914 but in most cases smaller than last year's harvests, were predicted today by the department of agriculture, basing its estimates on conditions July 1st.

Compared with conditions as reported on June 1st, the crops showed moderate improvement. The features of the department's report were a forecast of a record-breaking tobacco crop and announcement of a heavy quantity of wheat held on farms July 1st. the latter being more than double the amount usually so held.

Growing conditions during June improved the prospects of the wheat and oats crops. The combined crop of winter and spring wheat is forecast at 759,000,000 bushels, which is 44,000,000 bushels more than predicted last month. The estimate of the final yield of oats is increased to 1,317,000,000 bushels or 62,000,000 bushels more than forecast in June.

A slight increase in the area planted to corn this year was reported and a crop which with favorable conditions, might exceed last year's 3,055,000,000 bushel record crop, was forecast. The condition of corn was reported as slightly better than last year on July 1st., but was about two percent below the ten year average condition for July 1st.

Potatoes this year are growing on a slightly smaller acreage than last year but their condition indicates 10,000,000 bushels more than last year.

YANKS TAKE TWELVE INNING GAME FROM SOX

MOGRIDGE DEFEATS FORMER TEAMMATES 4 TO 3.

New York Twirler Has Good Support the Yankees Making Three Double Plays—Peckinpaugh Throws Out Two Runners at the Plate.

New York, July 7.—New York again defeated Chicago today in a close game, the league pace setters winning 4 to 3 in 12 innings. Mogridge, a White Sox discard, defeated his former temmates for the third time this season, having permitted only three runs in the three games. Mogridge had good support, the Yankees making three double plays. Peckinpaugh threw out two runners at the plate in the sixth inning.

Chicago scored in the first half of the twelfth on Schalk's infield single, a sacrifice, an out and Felsch's single, his fifth successive hit. In New York's half when pinch hitter Mullen's hit to left field took a bad bounce over J. Collins' head and rolled to the fence, both Magee and Nunamaker scored. The score:

DUN'S STATES BUSINESS MOVES UNDER REDUCED MOMENTUM

Little Shrinkage in Volume—Indications Foreshadow Unusual Activity Thruout the Summer.

New York, July 7—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

"Competitive buying has abated and business moves under reduced momentum, tho with surprisingly little shrinkage in its volume. This is the period of all others when a decided halt is to be expected, as many plants ordinarly stop for needed repairs and inventories and vacations are calculated to bring comparative quiet in commercial channels. Yet this year is an exception and much less than the customary lull is now apparent, while indications foreshadow unusual activity thruout the summer. Instead of being at low ebb, as is often the case at this time, production is maintained close to the recent maximum and enforced shutdowns of manufacturing works will, as a rule be of short duration. Operations in numerous instances however, continue hampered by the scarcity of labor and other draw backs, and it is still the fact that some mills are turning contracts away that cannot be filled as promptly as buyers desire.

"This is particularly true of cotton and woolen lines, in which important government needs have accentuated the difficulties in making early deliveries on ordinary requirements. Large orders for army shoes have also imparted stimulus to footwear and leather, while in steel and iron the sustained heavy foreign demands tend to offset the contraction in strictly domestic business. urther price recessions have occurred in the metal markets and in some other quarters.

WHEAT PRICES SHOW STRENGTH DESPITE BEARISH CROP REPORT

Close, Altho Unsettled, is ⅛ to ⅝ of a Cent Higher—Corn Ascends to Highest quotations on the Present Upturn.

Chicago, July 7—Notwithstanding that the bearish nature of the government crop report had been generally foreseen wheat prices today showed strength, the result chiefly of unwelcome rains in the northwest and of higher quotations at Liverpool. The close, altho unsettled, was ⅛ to ⅝c net advance, with July, $1.03½ and Sept. $1.05⅝@1.06. Corn finished ¼@⅜ off to ⅜@⅞c up, and oats gained ⅛ to ⅜@½c.

In provisions the outcome varied from 5c decline to a rise of 17c.

Good support for wheat was encountered on the dip in prices. The chief reason appeared to be that offerings of new wheat seemed relatively scarce and that with hard wheat at the Gulf of Mexico quoted 10c under Manitoba's the incentive was somewhat greater for speculators to buy.

Corn ascended to the highest quotations that have been reached on the present upturn, yellow corn in the sample market mounting to above 80c a bushel. Active demand from exporters furnished the impetus for the upward swing but was offset to some extent by fine weather for the growing crop. Oats reflected the corn strength. In addition there were advices that hot weather in Iowa had done considerable damage.

Packers buying overcame in part an early decline in the provision market. The decline had resulted from the fact that the supply of hogs here was larger than expected.

SPECIAL STOCKS, PARTICULARY WAR GROUP, ARE UNDER PRESSURE

Extreme Decline of Two to Four Points are Recorded by the More Important Munitions.

New York, July 7.—Special stocks particularly those comprising the war group were again under pressure today, together with other issues remotely related to that division. Extreme declines of 2 to 4 points were recorded by the more important munitions, the one striking exception being Bethlehem Steel, which gained 15 points to 455 on a fairly large number of transactions.

Metal stocks notably the zinc issues, continued to lose ground on the further decline in these products abroad. Shipping shares were consistently heavy, sugars were subject to profit-taking on their recent advance and motors were lethargic when not heavy.

Variable declines were scored by United States Industrial Alcohol, Texas company, Federal Mining and some of the Industrial issues dependent upon favorable tariff schedules.

Mexicans and affiliated stocks offered greater resistance than most other stocks, Petroleum closing with an actual gain.

Except for Reading which was one of the chief features of the forenoon, rails were scarcely a market factor. Publication of the crop report in the latter part of the session contributed to the partial rallies of that period. Total sales of stocks amounted to 490,000 shares.

A rise in call money to 4½ percent, the highest quotation since the resumption of business on the exchange in December, 1914, was accompanied by a forecast of local money movements for the week, showing a probable loss by clearing house institutions of more than $50,000,000. Much of this drain is due to record breaking interest and dividend payments, as well as heavy disbursements incident to the income tax. Bonds were irregular.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

OLD LADY FEELING FINE

After Taking Four Bottles Of Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Cobden, Ill.—"Having used Cardui, the woman's tonic, in my family, for a number of years," writes Mrs. Kate Metz, of this town, "and always with such good results, I feel it my duty to write you about it, so that you may publish my letter.

My mother is living with me, and she is 52 years old. For the last three or four years, she has been troubled a great deal with cramping spells, and for days at a time, she would have a severe headache.

She read of how much Cardui has helped other women who were sick and ailing, and decided to give it a trial. She began taking it three times a day, and since then has been getting along simply fine.

Mother only used four bottles of Cardui, but she is no longer troubled with the severe headaches, and her stomach is so much stronger that she can eat most anything.

We both feel that any lady who is not strong and well, would be greatly benefited by the use of Cardui."

When Editors Were Doctors.
Keene's Bath Journal was one of the oldest weekly newspapers in the provinces. Known as the Bath Journal, it was founded in 1742 by Thomas Roddeley, whose portrait in wig and ruffles, by Hoare, forms a picturesque reminder of the period. His daughter married John Keene, the journal from this union passing on to and through a succession of Keenes; hence its title Keene's Bath Journal.
As was the custom in bygone days patent medicines were sold in provincial newspaper offices, and the drawers in which the pills and medicines were kept at the Journal office were there until the paper suspended. It was nothing unusual for the editor in the throes of writing his editorials to have to step down from his seat to serve a box of pills.
The pages of the Journal were for a long period largely taken up by advertisements of various "cure alls."—London Times.

Arsenic In the Hair.
New light has been thrown on the legal side of arsenic poisoning. It has been found that arsenic compounds are absorbed by the hair of living persons, though not absorbed after death. In the hair of man arsenic has been known to reach a concentration of one to five parts in 100,000. The deposit takes place in the hair after it has been absorbed by the abdominal organs—liver and kidneys in particular. Therefore, in case of acute, quick poisoning, a chemical analysis of the hair would show no arsenic, while it would be found in the liver and kidneys. On the other hand, if slow arsenic poisoning was suspected, analysis would show arsenic in the hair, but not in the liver and kidneys, and it could safely be assumed that the poisoning was not recent. The legal value of such evidence is apparent.—Scientific American.

The Stork's Lazy House Building.
The most interesting sight in the Rotterdam zoo was the stork, whose nest is set high on a pinnacle of the buffalo house. He was building in the leisurely style of the British workingman. He would negligently descend from the heavens with a stick. This he would lay on the fabric and then carefully perform his toilet, looking around and down all the time to see that every one else was busy. Whenever his eye lighted on a toddling child or a perambulator it visibly brightened. "My true work!" he seemed to say. "This nest building is mere bypaths of industry." After drinking and overlooking and congratulating himself thus for a few minutes he would stroll off over the housetops for another stick. He was unquestionably a king of the garden.—Lucas in "A Wanderer In Holland."

Her Only Criticism.
Little Dorothy not only liked her tea and coffee to have the appearance of being "real and truly," but she also liked to taste the flavor of each. One afternoon her mother took her to a friend's home, where tea was served at 5 o'clock.
The hostess gave to Dorothy what she usually gave to her own children, of Dorothy's age—viz, hot water, sugar and milk. Dorothy tasted hers politely and ate her little cakes.
"Why, Dorothy, you aren't drinking your tea, dear. Isn't it sweet enough?" asked the hostess.
"Yes, Mrs. C., it's sweet enough," replied the child.
"Then why aren't you taking it?"
"It's too dull," she replied. — New York Times.

George's Birthday.
The date of Washington's birthday was, according to the calendar at the time of his birth, Feb. 11. This became Feb. 22 when the Gregorian calendar was adopted in 1752. The first place to use the new date in celebrating the event is said to have been Newport, R. I. As late as 1788 Washington himself apparently used the old style in referring to his birthday. His diary for that year has this entry: "Feb. 11 went up to Alexandria to the celebration of my birthday. Many maneuvers were performed by uniform corps and an elegant ball and supper at night."

Expressiveness.
"How is your boy Reub getting along with his books?"
"First rate," replied Farmer Alf Alfa. "He's learned a whole lot."
"Knows more than you do, I bet."
"I won't say that. But he kin tell me a lot of the things I already know in language I can't understand."—San Francisco Call.

He Beat Her to It.
"Belle, are you going to marry that pinhead you were with at the dance last night?"
"Yes, if he doesn't change his mind."
"Don't be too certain about it. He changed it about me, but I was about to do the same thing about him."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Natural Instincts.
"That callow youth acts as if the world depended on his choice of clothes."
"Well, in his salad days it is perfectly natural for a man to be particular about his dressing."—Baltimore American.

Different Classes.
"I fear she's too high for me."
"Different walks of life, eh?"
"Not walks exactly. But she's in the limousine class, and I'm only in the runabout."—Pittsburgh Post.

RURAL CARRIERS HERE IN CONFERENCE

ANNUAL STATE CONVENTION IS WELL ATTENDED.

Questions Important to Interests of Carriers Discussed—Jacksonville Extended Welcome to Visitors at Opening Session Friday—Banquet and Social Events Closed Program For the Day.

There are about one hundred Illinois rural carriers in Jacksonville to attend the annual convention. Headquarters are maintained at the Pacific hotel. The first session was held Friday morning when addresses were made by Mayor Rodgers, J. J. Reeve, president Chamber of Commerce, and R. I. Dunlap, postmaster. A response to the words of welcome was given by State President Benjamin E. Bernius of Edwardsville. Later in the session some subjects of special interest to carriers were discussed. In the afternoon nominations were made for state officers and for delegates to the national convention. The business session was followed by a trolley ride about the city, street cars being placed at the disposal of the delegates thru the courtesy of Supt. Gray of the Jacksonville Railway and Light company, in accordance with the request made by Secretary Rodgers of the Chamber of Commerce. At 5:30 the delegates and wives of delegates assembled at Armory hall where a splendid banquet was served by the ladies of Salem, Ebenezer, Mt. Zion and Lynnville churches. Following the banquet all the visitors attended the vaudeville and picture show at the Grand Opera House as guests of the Chamber of Commerce. Another session will be held this morning.

Morning Session Opens.

The morning session was called to order by A. R. Leake of this city, vice president of Cass, Morgan, Scott and Pike counties. He called on Rev. W. E. Spoonts to offer prayer which was done and then Mayor H. J. Rodgers was introduced. Mayor Rodgers said:

"Jacksonville is proud of this occasion. The rural letter carriers have an important mission in the land. The plan was first started in Auburn, Sangamon county, and Senator Cullom of Springfield urged the measure which was started in opposition and the result teaches us that the day of small things is not to be ignored. Many opposed the plan, but now it has become one of the great institutions in the land. We greet you with pleasure in our beautiful city. We have here three state institutions, Illinois college, the oldest in the state; the Illinois Woman's College, the Jacksonville business college, Nichols park, given thru the generosity of a citizen, and to all these we welcome you and bid you call again."

Benjamin E. Bernius, state president responded: "On behalf of the association I thank you sincerely for your cordial words of welcome. We are here to devise ways and means for the betterment of the service and not merely to entertain ourselves. We want to help the department at Washington that it may do its duty better and better and we are glad to be here and trust our stay will be pleasant and profitable; we thank you."

Association Work Important.

Postmaster Ralph I. Dunlap was the next speaker. "I deem it a privilege as well as a pleasure to be here and tender you on behalf of the Jacksonville postoffice a cordial welcome. We want to make your visit so pleasant you will all want to come back again. We want to treat you so well you will feel that this is your home and you will so regard it. I hope other parts of the state are as well organied as this district and city. Vice President Leake has done a good work. This association is a good thing and its work is most important. I have hoped the rural carriers would succeed in pulling Illinois out of the mud but from the roads last winter I felt the carriers' wagons were pulling the mud out of Illinois."

The president then announced the credentials committee, H. C. Miller, Edward Henn and E. D. Laudweler and asked them to retire and prepare their report.

Letters of regret at inability to be present were read from E. D. Brown, editor R. F. D. News and Senator L. Y. Sherman.

E. D. Ackerman of Utica spoke on the benefits of organization and insisted that all carriers who declined to go into the organization were inferior in their work to those who joined. He said it was due the people they served that all carriers should try in every way to promote the welfare of the service which could be done by collective work better than in any other way. There are plenty who are willing to stand by and see others do the work. There is injustice in permitting old soldiers to hold positions without civil service examinations when others are required to take them. I hope the day will come when the authorities at Washington will call on us to give advice and assistance in the work.

Miss Esther Spoonts was then introduced and gave in her talented manner "The Country Dance" and was loudly encored and responded with another selection with great acceptance.

Business of Postal Department.

Hon. John J. Reeve was next heard: "I was postmaster eight years and think I know something of the work. I endorse your organization and feel it is a great enterprise. If you are imbued with the spirit of your work you will accomplish much but if you simply work mechanically you will do but little. When I was postmaster there was a great fight in Washington to decrease the salaries of the men in the service. If the service were conducted in a strictly business manner it would be highly profitable instead of a loss. Every piece of mail should have a return address on it. Railroads are entitled to fair compensation. It is hard for a substitute carrier to serve three or four years and then have some one who can stand a better examination get the place he worked for as was the case when I was postmaster.

"I do not think you have seen a more beautiful city than Jacksonville and we hope you will fully enjoy it and so fall in love with it that you will make it the permanent place of meeting."

Remarks were made by W. H. Underhill of Seneca, E. D. Ackerman and others on various topics.

Committees were then announced:

Resolution committee—C. W. Anderson, chairman; E. D. Ackerman, W. J. Spencer, E. C. Sheffer.

Constitution and by-laws—W. P. Purviance, Arthur Fesler, C. Doolin.

Auditing committee — Phil W. Somerlad, J. R. White, Charles Ford, Ray Pludpot, G. F. Foster.

Mrs. Minnie Crofter of Mason City exhibited a patent mail packing device intended to take the place of straps and on motion of E. D. Ackerman it was indorsed.

Alexander O. Enke of Chicago, an attorney, made an earnest plea for a court of appeals to which carriers who feel they have not received justice may take their cases.

Banquet In Armory Hall.

About three hundred people attended the letter carriers banquet held in Armory Hall last evening and the supper served by the ladies aids of the four churches was certainly an excellent one. The churches participating in the serving were Ebenezer, Mt. Zion, Salem and Lynnville. The banquet was served to the rural letter carriers and their wives and many guests were also present. After the supper the ladies who prepared the banquet and so ably served the same were presented complimentary tickets to the Grand Theater.

These tickets were presented by the Letter Carriers Association and were apart from the regular compensation which the aid societies were given. This was very much appreciated by the ladies and nearly all of them took advantage of the opportunity offered them and swelled the crowd at the Grand last evening. The afafir was delightful in every way and the ladies of the four churches are to be congratulated upon the way in which they handled the afafir.

Every Woman Who Cooks in Hot Weather is Entitled to

The Best Gas Range

If it was for one day only you might say any old range would do, but with the long hot days ahead of us, multiplied by hotter hours of cooking and baking, the cook surely should have the best stove.

July 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th

we will demonstrate why the BEST RANGE IS THE BEST, and if the man of the house is not interested in giving you a comfortable and easy gas range to operate, then bring him along and we will show him how to save money in gas bills.

Every woman in this town and territory is cordially invited and the men too, even though you are outside the gas limits or in the country. Come anyhow and see the store and also the wonderful line of oil and gasoline stoves and ovens, for while we are specializing on gas ranges we are not overlooking other stoves.

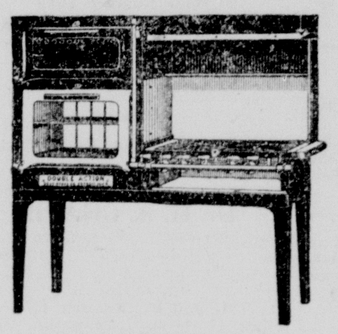
Why the "Best"

It has an oven that uses the heat twice.

Requires only 2 rows of fire to heat the oven, instead of 3 or 4 rows.

The oven is lined with aluminum fused metal which will not rust.

Has a broiling pan that will never catch on fire.



Is the Best

Has a separate oven and broiler burner.

Has an enameled body which can be kept clean with a damp cloth.

The oven burner is in plain view when the oven door is closed.

The glass in the door is protected on the inside by a metal rack.

ONE OF GERMANY'S "GRAND OLD MEN"

Amsterdam, July 7—Count Ferdinand von Zeppelin will enter upon his eightieth year tomorrow and the occasion is to be observed with celebrations in all parts of Germany, according to despatches from Berlin. Count von Zeppelin himself will have little or no part in the celebration of his birthday anniversary. Since the beginning of the war he has seldom left the Zeppelin works at Lake Constance, where he has worked almost day and night planning and superintending the building of the Germans have employed in their huge dirigible baloons which the raids on England. How many of these airships have been constructed since the beginning of the war will probably never be known to the public until after the great conflict is ended. It is known however, that the fleet has steadily increased in numbers, despite the fact that many have met with destruction in the raids on the British Isles. There is also evidence to show that the Zeppelins have increased in size and efficiency during the past six months. According to recent reports from Berlin the aircraft now building will be fifty percent larger than the Zeppelins now in commission. They will possess a proportionate increase in lifting power and consequently will be capable of carrying a much larger quantity of explosives than the existing craft of the same type. And, what is of even more importance, the new Zeppelins will be able to drop their bombs from a much greater height than heretofore, which is expected to render them practically immune from land or water gunfire.

To few of the world's inventors has fame come so tardily and reluctantly as it has to the man who brought to perfection the dirigible airship, and who is now characterized by his Emperor as "the greatest German of the century." Few inventors have encountered such relentless obstacles and overcame them by so indomitable a spirit. At the age of 75 years he and his invention were the subjects of public ridicule. Today, on the threshold of his eightieth year, he is honored by the entire German nation and his invention is hailed as one of the most effective weapons that Germany has been able to bring to bear on her enemies in the present war.

It is not generally known that Count Von Zeppelin made his first flight in the United States. At 25 years of age, as a lieutenant of cavalry, he was Wurtemburg's military attache and observer with the Union army in the American civil war. Joining the army of the Mississippi, he was attached to General Carl Schurz' brigade. It was then that he had his first taste of aeronautics. He went up in a balloon sent up by the Federal army to spy out the positions of the Confederates. Zeppelin not only volunteered, but begged to be permitted to go up. His request was granted and during the remainder of his service with the Federal army he made numerous balloon ascensions.

When he returned to Germany at the close of the American conflict he was imbued with a strong taste for aeronautics and it is said that even at that early day he already dreamed of navigating the air in a dirigible balloon. Many years were to elapse, however, before he could begin the practical execution of his plans. He distinguished himself in the war with Austria in 1866 and in the Franco-Prussian war four years later as an officer of a Prussian cavalry regiment.

Many thousands of dollars were used up and many lives were lost before the Zeppelin became an accomplished fact. With each successive disaster the aged inventor set to work to eliminate the imperfections. Wealthy and influential friends, among them the Emperor, shared Zeppelin's faith in the ultimate success of his invention. Airship after airship was constructed at great cost, only to meet with destruction after a few flights, and some of them on their initial trip. The spectacular nature of Zeppelin's misfortunes loomed large in the public mind, and it was only the German military and scientific experts who continued to have faith in his invention.

While the German scientific organs proclaimed each new Zeppelin a triumph, the weight of expert opinion in England was on the other side. At the beginning of the present war the English were inclined to laugh at the idea of a Zeppelin raid. The possibility of such a thing was ridiculed by even the foremost of English aviation experts, some of whom still contended that "a balloon cannot be steered in the air because of the absence of that denser medium for the rudder which the water provides in the case of a ship."

SWARM OF BEES IN WEST STATE STREET

Friday about noon a swarm of bees appeared in front of the Dunlap hotel. F. M. Brewer noticed them and by making considerable noise caused them to swarm on the limb of a tree in front of the Cherry Flats. After he got them settled he didn't know what to do with them, not being a bee man and not being able to locate J. W. Bowen who is an expert in that line.

TO PRESERVE THE HAIR

When your child is grown, the condition of and the amount of his or her hair will depend largely upon the way it is cared for now.

The human hair is composed of about 175,000 delicate oil plants.

Ordinary soaps and shampoos will soon destroy the natural oil and the fatty roots of these plants making the hair dry and brittle or destroying it entirely. EVERY WEEK SHAMPOO is an Anti-Septic Oil Shampoo that cleanses and purifies the scalp thoroughly and leaves the hair just as nature intended, soft, fluffy, silky, and the scalp slightly moist with oil, but no surplus oil in the hair.

If men would use EVERY WEEK ANTI-SEPTIC OIL SHAMPOO instead of the strong alkali shampoos which are so commonly used, they would preserve their hair rather than invite baldness. EVERY WEEK SHAMPOO dissolves and removes the dandruff (dry or oily), opens the hair cells, feeds and strengthens the famished roots and leaves the hair clean, soft, fluffy silky and the scalp healthy. A weekly application for men and children and every other week for women keeps the scalp clean, healthy and the hair in excellent condition.

EVERY WEEK ANTISEPTIC OIL SHAMPOO contains both mineral and cocoanut oils which cleanse the scalp and give the hair plant the oil which is required. It lathers freely removes any surplus oil, but does not remove the natural oil which healthy hair requires.

CHINESE BABY BOY BORN AT PASSAVANT

Mr. and Mrs. Wang Fook of North Main street are the happy parents of an eight pound baby boy which arrived last night at nine o'clock, at Passavant Hospital. Mr. Wang Fook came to this country about ten years ago from China. He has made recent trips back to his native land, and the last time returned with a wife. They have resided on North Main street where Mr. Wang Fook is in the laundry business.

This is probably the first Chinese baby ever born in Jacksonville and indeed there are few Chinese women in this section of the country. Reports from the hospital say that the mother and child are doing fine and this child will have the distinction of being the first "Chinaman" ever born in Jacksonville.

PLENTY OF WATER PREVENTS STOCK DISEASES

A veterinary surgeon made the remark yesterday that a great deal of the prevailing diseases and sickness among horses and other animals, was due to infrequent watering, or poor judgment as to time. Many people who will jump out of a wagon and run to a near by pump or drinking place seem to fail to realize that occasionally the horse gets thirsty as well as the driver.

The city commissioners will provide for animals in the city by prohibiting the parking of automobiles in front of the fountains in Central Park. Cherry's Livery announced yesterday that during the hot summer months all of their horses would be watered at four o'clock in the morning. This is an excellent practice and it would be well for other horse owners to take the hint. Possibly all would not care to water their horses so early in the morning, but it would require very little trouble to give the animals a drink before breakfast. If horse owner will think more of the comfort of their steeds less sickness will be prevalent among our horses. The same is true of all domestic animals.

MAKE FIGHT AGAINST TARVIA PAVING

SOME PRAIRIE STREET OWNERS MAKE STRONG PROTEST

Board of Improvement Declares Discussions About Materials In Past Have Blocked Pavement Movement—Proposes To Push Plans As Outlined And Adopted Resolution To That Effect.

The public hearing on the Prairie street paving held by the board of local improvement Friday was just about the liveliest affair that has occurred in the city hall for many a day There were thiry-five or forty residents present and a number of them voiced most vigorous protest against tarvia, the material with which the improvement board proposes to pave Prairie street. The objections were not in terms mild and gentle but strenuous in the extreme. Finally, when members of the board by unanimous vote adopted the resolution previously prepared providing for a tarvia pavement the explosion came and various ones of the protestors declared that municpal government is a failure anyhow and that the action taken in the face of protest was of a mighty high-handed kind.

Mayor Rodgers, Commissioners Martin, Vasconcellos and Widmayer adhered to the original program outlined for the street, without making any very loud defense. They let it be understood, that they took the position that if they changed their position for every protest made about material that Prairie street will never be paved. In support of this assertion they pointed to the fact that paving has been projected there for more than ten years past and in practically every instance delay has been occasioned because of differences of opinion among property owners about the right kind of material.

Protest Against Tarvia

The most vociferous opponents of the proposed paving yesterday were H. H. Bancroft, J. M. DePew, J. H. Jewsbury, H. L. Caldwell and L. B. Turner. A petition was filed when the session began signed by property owners representing about 1,400 feet. This petition set forth that those who signed it were opposed to tarvia and preferred asphalt. These signatures for the most part were secured by J. H. Jewsbury, while a few hundred feet were turned in by H. L. Caldwell and H. H. Bancroft. Among those who signed this petition were Otis Hoffman, Robert Clayton, L. B. Turner, Mary E. Peck, G. H. Crain, J. E. Fierke, J. M. Hurst, E. S. Rayborn, Lucy Hale, James Stubblefield, Mrs. Hannah Harrison, Mrs. Sherman Smith, Fred Hopper, Mary Taylor, Lucretia McFarland, Alexander Smith, Alexander Armstrong, Frank Moseley, Cosgriff Bros., Mrs. Harriet Lander and Ralph W. Hutchison.

The petition was in form wherein those who signed it expressed their opposition to tarvia but did not commit themselves absolutely to asphalt, The property owners who complained that the board "rode over them rough shod" without due consideration of the figures said that in addition to 1,400 feet represented in petition filed, that at a previous hearing owners of 1,973 feet were in favor of asphalt and that 608 feet had been registered as against tarvia. Mr. Bancroft said that the action was without precedent, that the board should proceed to calmly pass a resolution for tarvia when it was shown that a majority of the people were opposed to this material; that they did not want a 27 foot pavement; that they did not want sandstone curbing and that they did not wish to pay for the intersection.

Board Members Expressed Views

When Mr. Bancroft asked why some members of the board other than the Mayor did not express themselves, Mr. Widmayer said that he was willing to go on record and that he favored tarvia because of investigation he had made in other cities and because of the experiments of the work already done here. He referred to the history of the effort to pave Prairie street and said that it was really necessary for the improvement board to adopt some plan and then insist upon it, because of the greatly differing views about materials. Mr. Vasconcellos spoke along the same line. The motion to adopt the resolution was made by Mr. Martin.

Mayor Rodgers referred to the hearing a week ago when he said that the amount of frontage owned by persons favoring tarvia added to that frontage owned by people who did not appear to make protest constituted more than a majority. He explained that after due notice of the hearing was sent out that if a property owner did not appear and express a view opposed to the proposed material, that it was understood that the property owner was in favor of such material. This, he said, is the only procedure which can be followed, for otherwise every property owner who does not attend a public hearing must be counted as against the paving. On such a basis no paving would ever be put thru.

Method of Procedure.

The board explained that a sandstone curb had been provided because a concrete curb and gutter does not make a satisfactory combination with a tarvia pavement. It was charged by one property owner that neither he nor any of his associates had been given any consideration because the board had previously prepared a tarvia resolution and made an estimate, and this action he construed as virtually deciding the case before the property owners were given a hearing. In answer to this charge attention was called to the fact that it is necessary for the board in instituting any paving project to specify some material and to prepare an estimate on that basis. At the succeeding hearings the material may be changed if it is considered the proper course by the board.

Among those who attended the hearing were H. L. Caldwell, L. B. Turner, M. E. Gilbert, Miss Helen Carky, Miss Lydia Hamilton, Joseph DeSilva, Edward Keating, J. W. Jewsbury, H. H. Bancroft, L. F. Hitte, Mrs. George Hollinger, Mrs. E. O. Mayer, Mrs. C. V. Frankenburg, George Hollinger, Frank Moseley, J. M. DePew, E. L. Kinney. The last named referred to the effort to secure a pavement and said that in a comparatively short time in the circulating of a petition on South Prairie street that he had secured the signatures of property owners representing more than 2,800 feet. It appears from the records that some people have signed for both tarvia and asphalt. This is not unusual, as the same thing has occured on other streets where the property owners have disagreed about the best kind of paving.

Today, after the heated controversy of Friday afternoon, some of the property owners will probably be feeling in better humor, but not to the extent that they will drop opposition to the pavement. It is therefore to be expected that objection will be filed in the county court and an effort made there to stop the proceeding.

CHARLES BRADBURY DIES AT HOME NEAR BOSTON

Deceased Spent Early Manhood In This City—Chief of Police In Revere, Mass.

A telegram received here by Mrs. Henry Engel Friday announced the death of Charles Bradbury at his home in Boston Friday morning at 4:30 o'clock. The deceased had been ill about ten days from acute indigestion and heart trouble. The deceased was fifty-one years of age and was a son of the late R. A. Bradbury, for many years foreman of the job room of the Jacksonville Journal. Charles Bradbury learned the trade of a printer and was a resident here until twenty-five or thirty years ago.
